Presentation:

Bottle of 120ml.

Product Descriptions:

A brown syrupy solution.

Pharmacology:

Ammonium Chloride in doses of 300mg to 1g is used as an ingredient of expectorant cough mixture. It is believed to increase the amount of respiratory tract fluid by reflex stimulation of bronchial mucous glands resulting from irritation of the gastric mucosa.

Ammonium Chloride is effectively absorbed from the gastrointestinal tract. The ammonium ion is converted into urea in the liver; the anion thus liberated into the blood stream and extracellular fluid causes a metabolic acidosis and decreases the PH of the urine. This is followed by transient diuresis.

Indications:

Expectorate and loosen phlegm.

Dosage and Administration:

Adults and children above 12 years:
2 teaspoons (10ml), every 2 to 4 hours.

Children 6 to 12 years:

1 teaspoon (5ml), every 2 to 4 hours.

Children 2 to 5 years:

½ teaspoon (2.5ml), every 2 to 4 hours.

Symptoms and Treatments of Overdose:

In case of accidental overdosage, seek professional assistance from your doctor.

Symptoms: Symptoms include nausea, vomiting, thirst, headache, hyperventilation, drowsiness, acidosis and hypokalaemia.

Treatments: Treatment includes correcting acidosis and electrolyte loss by intravenous administration of sodium bicarbonate or sodium lactate. Hypokalaemia can be treated by administration of suitable potassium salt by mouth.

Contraindications:

Contraindicated in the presence of impaired hepatic or renal function.

Precautions:

If symptoms persist, please consult a doctor.

Undesirable Effects:

Large doses of Ammonium Chloride may cause vomiting, thirst, headache, hyperventilation and progressive drowsiness and lead to profound acidosis and hypokalaemia.
